EASTERN FARMERS TO HELP HARVEST DIDSBURY'S BIG CROP

Harvest help which has been scarce in the Didsbury district this fall, is to be augmented this week by an additional 100 Ontario men who are being rushed here to help out in the Didsbury, Carstairs and Olds areas, states J.R. Doon, Provincial government officer in charge of the district.

The Easterners will come from points in Saskatchewan and Manitoba where they have finished harvesting.

The unsettled weather last week caused a delay in threshing operations, although cutting has been completed here.

Very little moisture fell in the Didsbury district last week, but the weather was cool and damp and the farmers were not reseeded until Monday morning, when most of the farmers were again hard at work.

Wheat yields are varying from 25 to 50 bushels per acre and grades are 2 and 3 northern. Despite the farmers' strike considerable grain was delivered to local elevators the first of last week, and with the resumption of threshing it is expected that great deliveries will increase from now on.

The Saskatchewan wheat crop may produce around 231 million bushels this season.

LONG YEARS AGO

October 5, 1904

The fall fair on September 29 was particularly good, the weather was the best that Alberta could produce, which accounted for the large crowd. Prize for the best Shorthorn cow went to Alex McNaughton, while D.S. Shantz took the prize for the best year-old shorthorn.

What Didsbury wants, and wants badly, is a brick yard.

It snowed on Monday, but the weather is fine again.

J.E. Jackson of Edmonton is opening up a jewelry store in town.

Carstairs is on the boom. They have a new butcher shop, hardware store and real estate agent.

Wm. G. Liesener & Co. this week closed a deal for six sections of land west of the Dog Pound to parties from Kansas.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Trade J. Liesener was elected president; H.B. Atkins vice president; and A.J. Thomas secretary-treasurer. The question of erection of a grain elevator was discussed.

Messrs. Dimpel and Harnberger of Dewitt, Neb., are in town looking over the vicinity with a view to purchasing.

2 3/4 Per Cent Interest to be Paid On Canada's Savings Bonds

The limit for purchases of the new Canada Savings Bond by individuals has now been set at $2000. Purchases of the new security may only be made in the name of individuals and not in the name of firms, institutions, or in trust for second parties.

The decision to place a limit on purchases by individuals bears out a statement made by the Minister of Finance to the House of Commons last June. Mr. Heley pointed out at that time that since the terms of the Canada Savings Bond would be more favourable than those available for comparable securities at the time of issue, it would be necessary to restrict individual holdings. If no limit were set, the new security would naturally tend to be purchased in volume by institutions and large

POLYMER CORPORATION CELEBRATES THIRD ANNIVERSARY

Polymer Corporation Limited, of Sarnia, Ontario, Canada's Crown Company for the making of synthetic rubber, enters its fourth year of operation this month with production slightly over 11,000,000 pounds, an increase of 11,000,000 pounds over the yield for the past twelve months.

The $30,000,000 plant, with its Horton spheres, towers and pipelines built on 185 acres of what was once an Indian reservation, will produce more and still better types of rubber.

Mr. Dyck, who built a large stock house last year, is also starting an orchard and in 1945 planted 75 fruit trees, consisting of pears, apples, plums and cherries. He did not lose a fruit tree last year, and they all came through the winter without loss by winter-killing, or other causes. However, Mr. Dyck says he will have four spruce trees cut out of the 150 he planted around his place last summer.

CORDON WORDIE'S TREK THROUGH TO LAKE LOUISE

Following is an account of the trip to Lake Louise taken by Gordon Wordie this summer.

Gordon left Tuesday, August 6, 1946 via Sundre and with the help of one of his chums, Harold Beag, got a nice lift on his way. Harold drove him to Coal Camp and waved goodbye as Gordon struck out with a sixty pound pack on his back. Harold, married at Coal Camp about the road farther west and learned he could drive Gordon quite a few more miles so he turned back and caught up with Gordon once more. Driving back, Harold ran into quite a rainstorm and had difficulty in getting back.

Gordon followed the Red Deer river for most of the way, following Indian trails, losing them and finding them again. He reached Beaver or Skoki Ranger station on Sunday evening. The following day he made Lake Louise and sent a few postcards to confirm his trip. He arrived back in Didsbury on the midnight train Tuesday morning 13th. Gordon had a wonderful trip and had quite an experience. Contributed.

If no limit were set, the new security would naturally tend to be purchased in volume by institutions and large investors for whom it is not intended. The Canada Savings Bond is destined solely as a personal savings facility. All Canada Savings Bonds will be registered as to principal. This registration is made necessary by the need to control holdings, but will offer protection to holders against loss of their investment at the same time. Further, bonds may be registered in the name of minors and family, but who would otherwise be restricted to the $2,000 limit on purchases in their own name. An unusual feature of the new bonds is the privilege of turning them into cash at any time for full face value, plus interest, at any bank. The interest rate is considerably better than is available for other forms of saving and more favourable than that of comparable investments at the time of issue and excel terms of the Canada Savings Bond have been announced by the Minister of Finance and appear in an advertisement in this issue. The municipality is in the best position it has been for years thanks to Adam and his big maintenance. Bill Dick is busy threshing.

A. N. DYCK GROWS BIG POTATOES, HAS 75 TREE ORCHARD

The potato crop is being harvested and promises to be a big one, both in yield and size. If the sample brought to the Pioneer office on Monday by Mr. A.N. Dyck of East Didsbury is any indication of what the rest of the district will promise.

Of Early Vicks variety, the potatoes above mentioned weighed 3 1/2 pounds and was sound throughout. Out of one hill Mr. Dyck took 16 potatoes which filled a water pail, and all of them were of good size. Mr. Dyck, who built a large stock house last year, is also starting an orchard and in 1945 planted 75 fruit trees, consisting of pears, apples, plums and cherries. He did not lose a fruit tree last year, and they all came through the winter without loss by winter-killing, or other causes. BUTTER & MEAT COUPONS WHICH ARE NOW VALID

The Ration Administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board pointed out this week that butter coupons B-20 to B-50 inclusive, in the No. 3 ration book are not valid for the purchase of butter and will not be declared valid at any time. Similarly, meat coupons Q-4 was the last of the meat coupons in the No. 3 book, and coupons Q-5 to Q-13 will not be declared valid. Before they will accept any invalid coupons in the old book for the purchase of butter or meat. Coupons B-20, the last of the butter coupons, and Q-4, the last of the meat coupons, are now valid. The first meat coupon in the new book, M-51, was good for purchase on Sept. 19, as were sugar coupons S-26 to S-30 inclusive.

Showers Tuesday evening will again hold up harvesting.

FALLEN TIMBER NOTES

Didsbury people seen in the Fallen Timber district on Sunday were Dr. Paul and family, Mrs. Walter and family and Bob McGinnis and family.

Mr. Moore held his regular service in the school house on Sunday last.

School students spending the week end with their parents were Glen and Jim Cooper, Bill and Dorothy Moore and Harry McGinnis.

George Adamson of Bergen seems to be a frequent visitor in the Fallen Timber neighborhood.

Alex Moore has received his license as guide and outfitter for big game hunting parties.

That part of the Burma road in the municipality is in the best condition it has been for years thanks to Adam and his big maintenance. Bill Dick is busy threshing.

W.M.S. HOLD TEA AT HOME OF MRS. N. ECKEL

On Wednesday afternoon last a very successful tea was held by the Knox United Church W.M.S. at the home of Mrs. N. Eckel. About 45 ladies called during the tea, hour and over $11.00 was raised for the M & M fund.

QUEEN MARY SETS ATLANTIC RECORD

The liner Queen Mary has set an Atlantic record by completing the round trip in three days, 15 hours and 48 minutes. The ship's fastest wartime crossing required three days, 18 hours and 18 minutes.

MAURITANIA RELEASED FOR PEACETIME ACTIVITIES

The 35,700 ton Cunard White Star liner "Mauritania" finished her wartime duties on September 2nd, she will undergo reconversion for peacetime traffic at Liverpool, a job which is expected to last six months and give constant employment to two to three thousand men. During her war career the Mauritania set in several records, the longest for the round trip United Kingdom, Singapore and return. On war service she steamed 535,000 miles and carried 330,000 passengers.

WESTCOTT NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reinhardt had a better recently from their son Donald who has been with the merchant marine for the past seven months. At the time of writing he was in Trinidad, so he's really getting around, and likes the life very much.

Threshing operations were resumed Monday morning after being held up since last Tuesday by intense rain. Many stools and swaths were still a little tough however. Nice, bright, sunny weather is needed as it really hampers raising so much, the weather being mostly cold and damp and not giving the crop a chance to dry properly.

We are sorry to hear that little Ruby Daseford is very ill in the Didsbury hospital. We certainly hope she'll be well again soon.

Mrs. Dorothy Patchell of Cremona is helping Mrs. Clarence Daseford look for the threshers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson and family of Sundre spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. H. Goelien. Mr. Stevenson however, was doing what so many of the Westcott folks do in this last week, digging his potatoes.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Panke and daughter Marjorie of Big Prairie, and Mr. Roy Ireland were dinner guests at the Goelien home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Snyder, Dorothy and Gladys of Didsbury were west bound by car on Sunday to visit with their daughter, Mrs. Fred Goelien, but oldizzie refused to go within a few miles of their destination. However, kind friends saw to it that they got to where they wished to go. A couple of farm mechanics got together and made oldizzie go. We hope they arrived home safely that night.

Westcott W.I. Meeting At Home of Mrs. J. Luft

The Westcott W.I. met at the home Mrs. J. Luft on Tuesday, September 24th with 10 members and five visitors present.

The meeting opened in the usual manner and after a short business session on Roll Call was answered by giving the location of the home, including section, township, range and meridian.

Tonight for the afternoon was to have been "agriculture," but was held over until next meeting.

The theme song "The More We Get Together" was sung.

Mrs. Levaagood's educational talk was given by her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Toomey, of Glenview, Ontario, who is visiting at her home. She told of the work of her Institute in Glenview.

Mrs. Hughes' talk was held over until some time in the future, as the rest of the afternoon was given over to Miss B. Anderson, district home economist, of Red Deer. Her subject for the afternoon was "Put Your Best Foot Forward." Most important was, 1st, good health; 2nd good grooming; 3rd good poise; 4th good food; 5th good cleanliness. If you had good health and followed the rest of these rules you "could" put your best foot forward.

Miss Anderson also gave sewing hints, and distributed patterns of bedspread, aprons and pot holders. She showed the members a display of handkerchiefs, suitable for bazaar, made from odds and ends of material.

Phyllis Hughes read a poem made up by our "poetess" Mrs. J. Hughes to Miss Jean Robertson, an October bride-to-be, after which Mrs. MacFarlane, on behalf of all members of the Institute, presented Jean with a yellow chenille bedspread. Jean thanked all those present and said she was very happy to be making her future home in the district and to be a member of the Institute she had attended as a little girl.

The "bit of fun" was to have been conducted by Mrs. J. Robertson, but as many of the members had threshers or combiners for supper it was held over until the next meeting.

Meeting closed with the National Anthem, and lunch was served.

Next meeting will begin at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Baustle, and don't forget, ladies, to bring along an article you have done in your spare time.

DIDSBURY STUDENTS ENJOY INITIATION AT LOCAL SCHOOL

Parents and High School students assembled at the Didsbury High School on Friday evening, Sept. 25 for the annual initiation. The grade tens and others that had not been initiated were the victims. The girls being initiated were dressed in boy's long underwear, rubber boots and no bobbie pins. The boys looked very sweet and feminine in short-sleeved, baby bonnets and big working boots.

Those being initiated were put through many stages including a blindfolded walk around the school and a thrilling slide down the fire escape slide which had water on it.

The initiated were then taken into the school basement where they were made to feel slippery, salted, and a thrilling slide down the fire escape slide which had water on it. The initiated were then taken into the school basement where they were made to feel slippery, salted, and a thrilling slide down the fire escape slide which had water on it.

The principal and new teachers had their share in the initiation ceremony, looking very sweet in their costumes as hockey players, a farmer, a baby and an old woman. They suffered the same punishment as the pupils.

Lunch was served, after which there was dancing and games were played. Everyone went home tired and happy and with the feeling of having had an enjoyable time.

Alberta Hard Surfacing Said To Cost $25,000 Per Mile

When the delegation urging the construction of a short-cut highway to link with the Alaska highway for the province of Alberta, appeared before the senate standing committee on tourist traffic, some illuminating facts concerning road construction costs in the province were revealed.

For one thing, it was stated by Hon. W.A. Fallow, minister of public works, that the ordinary cost of constructing a standard gravel highway in the province is a little less than $5,000 per mile. The costs, of course, vary to some extent on different projects, in view of the different conditions in various localities.

For example, the province plans to build a 100-mile highway between Drumheller and Calgary at an estimated cost of $100,000.

During later questioning, the minister told the committee that "ordinarily" our hard surfacing costs from $20,000 to $25,000 a mile; $25,000 is about the highest we have had to go yet.

Mr. Fallow also told the commi-

tee "We have a very ambitious program outlined in Alberta and it is already well under way. This year we have just about completed a new highway from Courtis to Lethbridge. That is a standard gravel highway now. It will be hard surfaced next year. Any state-ments I make here will of course depend on economic conditions."

Soil Conservation

SOIL CONSERVATION has been a subject of interest to farmers and agricultural scientists in this country for many years. Members of these groups have long been conscious of the importance of the problems related to soil erosion, but it is doubtful if the population as a whole has realized how serious is the need for prompt and efficient action in this connection. Recent surveys have shown that the average of "bad lands," the name applied to areas in which the soil is no longer fertile, is increasing. In 1941 it was found that in the Prairie Provinces alone there were more than four million acres of abandoned farm lands. These lands would have a potential yield of 62,000,000 bushels of wheat each year, an item which would be far from negligible in increasing Canada's contribution to the world's food supply.

Is Common To All Provinces

The subject of soil erosion is dealt with in a recent article published by the Royal Bank of Canada. In this article the writer states that scientists have found that it takes nature about five hundred years to make one inch of good topsoil, "and this precious source of food and living is being washed from beneath our feet, or blown into the air, at terrific rates." The problem is one that is common to every province in the country, but it has always been especially serious on the Prairies where wind, and the lack of trees in many districts, have kept it always before the people living there. Much has been accomplished under the terms of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act, passed in 1935. This act provides for the reclamation of areas affected by drought and soil drifting and through it, resources of the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture and all other agencies concerned with this work have been combined in an effort to conserve and rehabilitate farm lands in the West.

Many Thousands Have Benefitted

It is estimated that more than fourteen million acres of land in the Prairie Provinces have benefited from the work carried on under the P.F.R.A. Tree planting in connection with home building, the provision of shelter belts, individual or small water developments, community water projects, strip farming and scientific crop rotation are only a few of the measures which have been adopted by farmers in co-operation with workers under the P.F.R.A. with the object of conserving moisture and preventing soil erosion. Although many thousands of farmers have benefited from these measures, it is clear that sustained and increasing interest in scientific methods of farming, particularly in respect to this question of soil conservation will be necessary if Western Canada is to remain a great grain-producing land. The writer of the article already referred to, concludes with the observation that: "Soil conservation opens up fresh opportunities like the discovery of a new West. Those who attempt it are transforming nature consciously, according to a plan, not merely taking what nature offers."

Japanese Troops

Reported To Have Thrown Chinese To Starving Police Dogs

Victory-ravaged Japanese troops in North China threw helpless Chinese to starving police dogs, which tore the victims to shreds, the War Crimes Tribunal heard.

"I saw them bitten to death," said an affidavit taken from Cheng Ting-Kiang, now a war crimes judge in China.

His testimony was introduced by the prosecution to show that the infamous "Rule of Nanking" in 1937 was not the only Japanese victory orgy in China, that it extended into the remotest provinces.

Gains Support

Campaign For Compulsory Pasteurization Has Backing Of Various Organizations

Among national organizations which have presented resolutions through their provincial branches or directly from their national headquarters, to various provincial governments calling for enactment of legislation for compulsory pasteurization of milk were the Canadian Medical Association, the Canadian Nurses' Association, the Chief Cattle Raisers' Association of Canada, and the Canadian Council for Crippled Children.

These resolutions, sent to all governments except Ontario, were in support of the Health League of Canada's campaign to obtain compulsory pasteurization laws throughout the Dominion. Ontario is the only province at present with such a law.

The resolutions pointed out that while milk is among the finest of all foods, it is, in its raw state, an excellent culture medium and a means for transmission of bacteria and communicable disease to humans. It was stated that pasteurization will destroy the infectious organisms without losing milk's nutritive value.

English Lavender

A Good Harvest Was Gathered This Year

Lavender—the basis of some of the finest perfumes—was gathered this year in the chief growing centre, Norfolk East, England. The harvest was exceptionally good and the industry expects to produce a very good quantity of its high quality fragrant oil. The bulk of the season's perfume is scheduled for export to territories where "Old English Lavender" still holds an unrivalled reputation. Perfumery exports from the United Kingdom have shown an exceedingly rapid rise in the last year.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—May I get extra rations for meals served to harvest help?

A.—If your harvest help is planning on staying for more than two weeks, they will be expected to turn over their ration books to you. However, if they are not going to work at your farm for that length of time, you may apply to the local ration board in your district for their rations. You are entitled to extra rations if you serve twelve meals or more.

Q.—When will the three extra sugar-preserves coupons be declared valid?

A.—The ration coupons to cover the purchase of the three additional pounds of sugar for this year will be validated in September and December. On September 19 two of the three extra sugar-preserves coupons will become valid. The other one will be declared valid under December 19th.

Q.—If a ration book holder does not obtain his new book during the distribution dates, when will he be able to pick it up?

A.—Latecomers will not be able to obtain a new book until after September 29. The books will be issued from September 30 until October 15 by a few selected local ration boards. After October 15 only the branches of the ration administration will issue books. No. 6. All applications received by the local ration boards after October 15 will be sent to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board offices for attention.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your rationing, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Warm Floors

Are A Very Important Factor In Home Heating

Warm floors have long been considered by heating engineers as one of the most important factors in keeping the home comfortably heated. Cold feet, they say, will quickly lead to general body discomfort and can be the cause of common colds. Warm floors are especially desirable in a home in which there are children, because the floor is so often the place where they play.

To provide this essential home heating feature for homes located in the country as well as in town, a Canadian manufacturer has placed on the market this fall a new type of oil space heater that provides warm air circulation at floor level at all times that the heater is in operation. This Coleman Oil Heater is designed to move the heat—and not the maximum amount of heat—into the home by eliminating waste heat up the chimney. The "heat flow" design of the streamlined radiator of this oil heater permits circulation of an extra large volume of warmed air. It is this circulation or movement of the warmed air plus fast-acting radiant heat that keeps floors warm and prevents cold corners in a room. This oil heater is said to provide a complete circulation of freshly warmed air three to five times an hour.

Answer To Last Week's Puzzle

POLIO WARNING

Protect All Foods From Contacts With Flies

TORONTO.—Renewed warnings to "peel or scrub" all raw fruits was given by the Ontario department of health as the first of "six simple precautions" against infantile paralysis. The department stressed the six common sense precautions:

1. Peel or scrub all the (word) "all" was underscored raw fruit and vegetables before serving.
2. Protect all food from flies.
3. Teach your children to avoid crowded beaches and swimming pools and bathing in dirty streams.
4. Avoid over-fatigue and if possible have your children rest for two hours each afternoon.
5. Prevent your children from suffering sudden chills or exposing themselves to too much sun.
6. Make your children wash their hands before eating.

The Canadian Press in a previous story erroneously quoted a report issued by the Canadian Medical Association as warning against raw fruit contaminated by virus-bearing flies. The report actually said the danger lay in raw fruit when unwashed or unpeeled.

This distinction was elaborated by Dr. D. S. Puffer, Ontario's chief medical officer of health, who said peeling or scrubbing was a precaution in all communicable diseases. "It's not the fruit or vegetable itself that is dangerous," said Dr. Puffer. "It is the contamination which might be placed on the outside by some flying insects and which can be eliminated by peeling or scrubbing."

Salvaging Ships

Drive By British Admiralty Will Save Millions Of Tons

"Frogmen," underwater explorers, are being recruited by Admiralty salvage officials in a big drive to seek as many as 2,000 British merchant ships sunk during the war.

With the "frogmen" and the help of a French secret submarine camera which records how a ship is lying, how badly damaged it is and how best it can be saved, now being negotiated for, the Admiralty experts believe they will be able to salvage millions of tons of shipping and scores of millions of dollars' worth of cargo.

NEW TYPE IRONING CORD

Wrapped up in her work instead of the ironing cord no wonder this busy housewife appears calm and collected as she washes her iron. The cord, which is molded in spiral form from neoprene synthetic rubber, stretches and retracts without the aid of springs. It cannot snarl or unravel. Only one foot long when retracted, the new type cord can be stretched to a length of six feet.

Purchase Fleet From Canada Several Persons Suffered Severe Injuries In California

CALGARY.—The Turkish government plans to purchase a fleet of 21 vessels from Canada and the United States as many as 2,000 British merchant ships sunk during the war. Several persons suffered severe injuries in California.

Smoke from the Berkeley city dump, swept downward suddenly by atmospheric conditions, obscured the roadway. Four trucks and 12 automobiles had to be towed away. Nine others were able to creep off under power.

You can take your choice between the two: the man that won't take chances lacks courage, or the man who does lacks sense.

Britain's National Trust Jubilee Celebrations Dealt With Many Historic Places Of Great Interest

MANY overseas visitors, who were in Britain for the Newton tercentenary celebrations, doubtless made a pilgrimage to the small Lincolnshire manor house, Woolsthorpe Manor, where Britain's great scientist was born and formulated at least three of his great discoveries and where the orchard still contains a direct descendant of the famous tree from which he saw the apple fall. Like many other of England's historic buildings, Woolsthorpe is the property of the National Trust, to whom it was presented by the Royal Society and the Pilgrim Trust.

It so happens that while scientists celebrate the Newton tercentenary, the National Trust for Places of Historic Interest or Natural Beauty, to give it its full title, celebrates its own Jubilee, having been founded just over fifty years ago by three public spirited citizens, Miss Octavia Hill, the well-known housing reform pioneer, Sir Robert Hunter, solicitor to the Post Office and a zealous champion of access to open spaces, and Canon Rawnsley, vicar of the parish in the Lake District, Britain's great playground, much of which Trust has succeeded in preserving for all time.

At first a private company, the Trust was incorporated by Act of Parliament in 1907, which empowered it to hold land and buildings for the benefit of the nation. Although the Trust enjoys certain exemptions from tax, it has never received direct financial aid from the state and depends for current resources on members' subscriptions and individual benefactions. As membership at present is only some eight thousand, and the minimum subscription as low as ten shillings, the Trust's current resources are exceedingly small and it can only accept on behalf of the Nation, property unlikely to be a financial burden or for which an adequate endowment is available. Many special appeals in the past have served to preserve properties ranging from Lakeland fells to complete villages. In many cases arrangements are made for owners of large country houses who can no longer afford their upkeep in modern conditions to make them over to the Trust while continuing in residence.

Despite difficulties, the Trust had before the recent war, acquired nearly fifty thousand acres of land, in Wales and Northern Ireland (a similar but separate Trust operates in Scotland). This figure has been more than doubled in the past seven years, and now stands at a hundred and fifteen thousand acres, while forty thousand acres are now preserved from industrial or housing "development" by restrictive covenants with the owners. The management of these properties costs money. Agriculture must be maintained and old buildings adapted to modern conditions. Woodlands health and fell cannot be expected to be self-supporting. Hence the National Trust has issued an appeal to all at home and overseas interested in preserving England's heritage, for new members and donations. In a few weeks donations have amounted to forty-one thousand pounds and there is an impressive list of new applications for membership. In recognition of the Trust's work for the nation, the Chancellor of the Exchequer has promised to recommend to Parliament the making of a pound-for-pound grant in connection with the appeal, to double its proceeds.

A survey of the Trust properties touches on all periods of England's historical and literary development, with numerous links with overseas. At Avebury, Wiltshire, it preserves one of the most important Stone Age sites in Europe. It owns considerable stretches of the famous Roman Wall across Northern England. At Beham, Sussex, it owns the site from which the Bayeux Tapestry shows, King Harold set sail for Normandy. The Trust owns almost the whole of the historic meadows at Runnymede, where King John signed the Magna Carta. The Trust's medieval treasures include the George Inn at Southwark, the only surviving galleried inn in Central London, and a house in Kent, known as St. John's Jerusalem, once belonging to the Knights Hospitallers. At Swanton Morley, Norfolk, the Trust has land once belonging to an ancestor of Abraham Lincoln. The property was handed over two years ago in the presence of John Winant, the U.S.A. Ambassador, Quebec House, Westminster, enshrines memories of General Wolfe's early years. Last year the Trust acquired Juniper Hall, Rox Hill, which has associations with Madame d'Arbilly and distinguished French fugitives from the Revolution period. Four years ago, Lord Astor gave his famous house at Clivedon on the middle Thames "to be applied to promoting fellowship between England and the English speaking nations." The House has many U.S.A. associations and the Canadian military hospital in the grounds has been presented to the Government as a memorial to the Canadians who fought in the war.

One of the most widely visited houses belonging to the National Trust is Clouds Hill, the Dorset cottage where Lawrence of Arabia lived after leaving the A.E.F. and which is kept exactly as during his lifetime. At Burwash, Sussex, the Trust owns three hundred acres including "Bateman's" home of Rudyard Kipling, who has so graphically described its "discovery." The House was left to the Trust in 1940 by Mrs. Kipling. In the Lake District, nearly four thousand acres ensure the memory of Beatrix Potter, creator of "Peter Rabbit," who became one of the district's leading sheep breeders. The above are only a few examples from a list which includes nine hundred properties, great and small.

Besides properties with definite historic or literary associations, the Trust owns considerable areas of the most beautiful of the English landscape, whose variety is world-renowned. These range from the highest mountain peak in England, Scafell Pike in the Lake District, to the only remaining stretch of original fen in East Angles, and from the rugged grandeur of the Devon and Cornwall coasts. It is to ensure the preservation of as much as possible of England's rich historical heritage and varied natural scenery that the Trust issues its Jubilee appeal. While members enjoy many privileges, including access without charge to all Trust properties, their greatest privilege is the knowledge that they are sharing in the work of preserving many of the features that make Britain unique among the countries of the world.

Rommel's Horse

Is Now In British Royal Stables At Windsor

NEW YORK.—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's blooded Arabian stallion, the horse on which the "Desert Fox" planned to enter Cairo in triumph—is now living contentedly in the British royal stables at Windsor Castle. The animal is being trained to take part in royal processions, according to the Stockholm daily Aftonbladet. The famous thoroughbred was captured in North Africa by Field Marshal Lord Montgomery's Eighth Army during the rout of the German Afrika Korps. It was later shipped to the British army's remount depot at Melton Mowbray.

Spy Ring

Subversive Movement Against The United States Army

STUTTGART, Germany.—United States intelligence authorities said that they had broken up a ring of German spies suspected of operating in the American occupation zone as undercover agents for Soviet Russia. There were hints of a possible large-scale German subversive movement against the United States army. Counter-intelligence corps officers at Stuttgart and at American Army headquarters in Frankfurt revealed that the suspected spy ring was exposed after it had engaged in undercover activities for several months. Fifteen Germans were arrested. Members of the ring were said to belong to a secret German organization known as "Free Germany." This was the first time the existence of such an organization had been revealed.

Agents refused to discuss the nature or activities of the "Free Germany" group and whether it was large or small. They gave indications, however, that the arrested Germans were only members of a large organization. The ring leader was said to be a man named Walter Karmark. A high intelligence officer at United States headquarters said: "The leader was believed to be connected with Russian agents in the zone. He declared in a statement that he had received some money some time ago."

The ring of Germans was broken up "two or three months ago" it was revealed by agents at Stuttgart.

WHERE THINGS NEEDED

The Ottawa Journal says: A jet plane flew from New York to Boston, about 200 miles, in 21 minutes and 31 seconds. Who is in a such hurry that he wants to fly 240 miles in 21 minutes? Sometimes we wonder whether the ingenuity and energy of modern man isn't too much concerned with speed, too little concerned with needs that are a thousand times more pressing—and more tragic.

The term "fifth column" was first used by Spanish General Mola during the Spanish Civil War.

The French Empire Now Appears To Be In A Process Of A Revolutionary Change

(By George Stocumbe, New York Herald Tribune)

LESS dramatically, but none the less surely, the French empire, like the Dutch and the British, is in process of revolutionary change. The ferment of nationalism is contagious. The idea of Arab nationalism in the Middle East and of Chinese nationalism in the Far East, commingling with the changing currents of native Communism, German and Japanese intrigue, economic disabilities and individual ambition have swept through the French colonial possessions and protectorates sometimes destructively and violently, sometimes with an even more impressive regard for peace and order, but always inexorably.

The statement of the New France cannot escape the problem even if they would. The march of human thought and human passions is too irresistible to be denied. After the manner of great and pressing problems of European peace and France's economic destiny comes the equally pressing problem of her imperial policy.

If France is to retain her empire and thus her vital prestige, she must speedily, wisely and generously adjust her relationship with the six millions of black, brown and yellow-skinned people in various degrees of political, cultural and social advancement who compose what is now to be known as the French Union.

Two significant facts invite attention in any study of the French colonial problem. One is that the movements for autonomy or independence are strongest in those parts of the French Empire, notably Indo-China and North Africa, which were immediately under enemy occupation during the war and were subjected for a part of it to the influence and the mentality of Vichy. Whereas the rest of the empire "which rallied spontaneously after a very little delay to Gen. de Gaulle has remained either passive to or unaffected by the current movements of nationalism and separatism."

The second fact to be considered is that the territories most exposed to German and Japanese intrigue have now most engaged under the tide of native nationalism are those most developed politically and economically. Exotic and exoticism also play their part in fostering nationalist ambitions.

The nationalists of Indo-China beat heart and energy from the success of the nationalists of India and China, Dutch Indonesia and Siam. The Arabs of North Africa look to the Arab states of the Middle East and Egypt. If there existed a powerful and independent Negro state in the Americas, the Negroes of the quiescent natives of French Equatorial Africa might nurture ambitions parallel to those of the other citizens of the French empire.

The very character of French civilization and of the French social system toward other races tends to encourage far-reaching political ambitions and administrative independence. There is little or no race prejudice in France, and before there was a colonial problem, Negro Deputies from Martinique and Senegal sat in the French Parliament, took part in the sessions of the Chamber of Deputies and in the sessions of Parliamentary committees on military and foreign affairs, and even on occasions occupied the vice-presidency of the Chamber of Deputies.

One of the weaknesses of the French position in Indo-China is that similar rights were not accorded to the Indo-Chinese because in theory France exercised only a protectorate over Indo-China as over Tunisia. Yet neither the French policy of paternalism as practiced in Negro Africa nor that of absorption as practiced for nearly a century in Algeria, whose three departments are constitutionally assimilated by those of the French mainland in Europe, has been proved adequate to meet all situations in these rapidly changing times.

A patriarchy depends for its success in the ultimate resort on the wisdom and enlightened character of the administrator as well as upon the docility and discipline of the administered. And where is France to find a high-principled and educated administrative corps in an age when the teaching profession, the magistracy, and the higher civil service are steadily abandoned by the most brilliant of the younger generation because the rewards they offer are so pitifully unassuming?

Similarly the assimilative process so long practiced with apparently good results in Algeria is now rejected by a large and active minority of Algerian Arabs who are now pressing demands for autonomy if not for complete separation upon a constituent assembly. The French constitution in at least as generous terms as those of 1793.

The sad reality is that French civilization which at its best is possibly the highest and the most comprehensive system of thought and action offered to man since the Republic of Plato, is not acceptable any longer to many who have benefited by it in the past except upon its own terms.

To Frenchmen who regard with pride the achievements of their predecessors in Africa and Asia, and

PROTECT THE PHEASANTS WE HAVE

The hunting season is on and while some local sportsmen report fair bags of ducks, birds in general do not appear to be as plentiful as last year. With this apparent scarcity of ducks some of our hunters may feel inclined to trek through the fields in quest of upland game birds, although the true sportsman will refrain from this procedure, knowing that there is no open season at the present time on prairie chicken, partridge or pheasant.

However, the pheasant season will open in the Didsbury area on Monday, October 14, and while very few pheasants are in evidence in the immediate vicinity there must be present a large portion of the 90 young pheasants liberated by the Didsbury Fish and Game Association early this summer. These birds were liberated in the district for the sole purpose of establishing the pheasant in this part of the province in the hope that they will multiply and provide excellent sport in the years ahead. If we shoot them off now the good work of the Fish and Game Association will have been in vain.

The area around Didsbury is ideal for pheasants and it is to be hoped that they will become firmly established here in the next few years. We would urge hunters and sportsmen to do their utmost to protect the breeding stock this year at least, so that definite information can be obtained in the spring on just how these fine game birds have adapted themselves to our locality. At the same time it is to be hoped that our local sportsmen will refrain from shooting any pheasants in the Didsbury district this fall. Let them multiply and within two or three years we may all be able to enjoy the sport of hunting them without fear of depleting the breeding stock we now have.

ELECTRICITY ON THE FARM

Bruce Martin, dominion government analyst stationed at Olds, stated in Calgary recently that in the experimental electrification areas in Alberta, such as Olds, Swallow and Vegreville, the use of electricity on the farms in one year increased remarkably.

Mr. Martin says that if any district is really anxious to get electricity as quickly as possible it should organize itself, draw up complete plans of the location of subscribers and submit these to the power company concerned. If this were done these communities would probably get preference when the company is able to expand its services.

Taking Mr. Martin at his word it would seem that the Didsbury district, which is ideally situated for the establishment of rural electrification, should organize immediately in an effort to have the power lines erected and farms serviced with electricity. Delay in doing so can only mean a delay in the time when rural electrification will be established here.

BROOM OR CULTIVATOR

As most farmers know, The Weed Act calls for cleaning of threshing machines, combines and racks before moving from one farm to another. Regardless of the legal aspects of the situation it is good business to spend a few minutes to thoroughly clean threshing equipment between farms. Many of the infestations of our more serious noxious weeds can be traced to weed seeds carried on threshing equipment or on trucks or wagons hauling grain. A few minutes with the broom may save weeks with the cultivator.

GRAIN LOADING AT CHURCHILL STARTED SEPT. 13

Three million bushels of Canadian wheat will be shipped to Britain this year from the port of Churchill on the Hudson Bay. Already 1,900,000 bushels have been transported via that route and the balance will be loaded starting about September 13th.

Most of the wheat which has already been despatched, and that which was loaded in September, comes from fields in Saskatchewan, with some shipped to Churchill from northern Alberta and Manitoba. Arrangements for the shipments have been made by the Canadian Wheat Board.

NOTES FROM THE WEST

The Elkton Willing Workers held a shower in the school in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Hogg, the latter being a war bride, on Friday, September 20th. There was a short program with Mr. Campbell as chairman, after which the young couple opened their many beautiful gifts. Colin expressed his appreciation for his wife and himself and lunch was then served by the ladies.

Mrs. J. Hoesgood had the misfortune to fall on the cement in the basement and suffered a broken left wrist. Mrs. Woolway of Red Deer spent last week with her, and Mrs. C.S. Hogg is assisting her this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Niddrie of Mund spent last Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Hogg.

Mrs. Arnold Blain and Mrs. K. Konechuh visited with Mrs. Evans on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. D. Hoesgood and Mrs. J. Hoesgood were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Cowitz on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cadman of Calgary spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. Thompson.

The Elkton Willing Workers are in need of children's clothing to pack a parcel for overseas, sizes two to twelve years.

CANADA'S VISITORS

Never before has Canada had in one year as many distinguished visitors from other lands as have come to us this year. Hon. Hugh Dalton, the Chancellor of the Exchequer from Great Britain, whose task corresponds with that of the Minister of Finance in Canada, is the latest and not the least important. The aged minister made a good impression on his Ottawa audience when he spoke to the Canadian Club. The Labour Minister paid tribute to Canada as the leader in social security measures and particularly for family allowances. The British Government is now introducing a family allowance measure but is not making any allowance for the first child and allows only 5 shillings (less than $1.00) per week for each child after the first. This is of no value to families on relief in Britain as the Labor Government has decreed that their relief will be reduced by the amount of family allowance.

"We must have greater trade with each other," Mr. Dalton said. "Bilateral trade is a poor second best but is better than no trade at all."

BRITAIN SUPPLIES THE WORLD WITH RAZOR BLADES

Britain is now sending overseas an average of 8,000,000 razor blades every week. This is revealed by the latest trade returns which show that during July these exports totalled over 33,000,000. The corresponding figure for 1938 was 13,000,000. One United Kingdom firm has reported that its export sales for the first half of this year were 174% greater than those of the corresponding period in 1939.

PENICILLIN FOR CATTLE

Britain's Minister of Supply has announced that by arrangement with the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries, penicillin is to be made available for use by veterinary surgeons in the treatment of bovine mastitis and other diseases of dairy cattle.

ELECTRICAL POWER IS DEPENDABLE

BEHIND the switch that brings you instant fingertip service lies the constant vigilance of many men. Through the dark hours of the night, when you and your neighbors sleep, their unceasing watch goes on. In summer cloudburst and wintry blizzard discomfort and oftentimes danger are their lot, but in the safeguarding of those slim wires traversing the countryside to your house and the house next door and the thousands of homes beyond that, lies their duty.

To them there is no such thing as service beyond the call of duty, for they know only the importance of uninterrupted electricity. They know that necessity is heedless of time and that emergencies may come at any hour. They know that when sickness strikes at night light is the first demand. Light that is gained at the flick of a fingertip with no thought that it might not be there.

That is your tribute of which they are so proud... you took it for granted. That is the way they want you to continue to feel, that ELECTRICAL POWER IS DEPENDABLE.

IT'S THE LOCAL TOUCH THAT REALLY COUNTS

The magnetic power of local news to win and hold people's attention is as fundamental as human nature itself. Local news begins to play its part in a man's life with a one-line notice announcing his birth. Progress in school, participation in sports, graduation, engagement, marriage follow . . . each likely to figure somehow in local news.

Then comes the upward climb in business, perhaps an entry into politics, almost surely some activity in civic, religious and social affairs . . . each step productive of news that's of vital interest to self, to family, to friends and fellow townspeople. So it goes till death itself writes the final story.

Only in the Hometown Weekly Newspapers can people satisfy their craving for this kind of news, their unceasing curiosity about what goes on close to home. And only there can they find every week the local buying information they need. Which explains very largely why people read The Didsbury Pioneer so eagerly and thoroughly, and why such weekly newspaper advertising produces such satisfactory returns.

DEMAND MOTOR FUNDS FOR HIGHWAY NEEDS

Renewal of demands that all motor revenues should be earmarked for highway construction and maintenance in this province is planned by the Alberta Motor Association.

A provincial director who returned recently from a visit to Montana reported that the state has 8,000 miles of hard surfaced roads. Of particular interest to Alberta car drivers is the fact that in Montana it is necessary to spend all motor revenues on highway improvements and maintenance. The state has to do that in order to qualify for U.S. federal road appropriations.

Officials of the A.M.A. point out that this province with 200,000 more people than Montana undoubtedly could have had several thousand miles of hard surfaced roads now if millions of dollars in motor revenues had been used entirely for highway purposes, instead of being taken into the general fund of the province.

These improvements could have been applied to the entire highway system of the province, giving Alberta better secondary and market roads as well as main highways. Before the provincial government considers its highway estimates for 1947, the A.M.A. will make vigorous representations to have all motor revenues set aside specifically for the purpose of building better roads, thus meeting the insistent demands of Alberta citizens and visiting tourists.

WESTERN GRAIN ROUTE

It is claimed that the Canadian Wheat Board will divert large shipments of wheat through Vancouver during the coming season. The reason given therefor is that the rail haul from many points in Alberta to Vancouver is much shorter than to Fort William and hence shipments therefrom to Great Britain will mean a saving of from 1c to 5c a bushel compared to the cost of shipping via the Great Lakes. The British-Canadian wheat agreement is based on $1.55 a bushel whether the wheat is delivered at Churchill, Vancouver or Fort William.

BIG FAMILIES IN OLDEN DAYS

(From Didsbury Pioneer, 1904)

J. V. Berscht, proprietor of the Didsbury Shoe Store, received the following from a customer at Sunnyslope, Aug. 24, 1904:

"You will put some shoe on my little families like this and send by the stage of P.P. Giesbrecht:
One man, John St. John, me, 42 years old; one woman, Sophia St. John, she, 41 years old; Hermina and Lenora, 19 years old; Honora 18 years old; Celina 17 years old; Marjorie, Octavia and Philise 16 years old; Oliva 14 years old; Phillipa 13 years old; Alexandre 12 years old; Rosina 11 years old; Bruno 10 years old; Pierre 9 years old; Eugene (we lose him); Elieard and Eliza 7 years old; Adam 6 years old; Camille 5 years old; Zool 4 years old; Joseph 3 years old; Moise 2 years old; Marcel 1 year old; Malfaire the go bare-foot. How much?"

TENANTS OF HOUSING ACCOMMODATION ARE STILL "FROZEN" SAYS PRICE BOARD

Tenants of housing accommodation are still "frozen" according to N. Primrose, rentals officer for the Alberta region of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. As a general rule under present rental regulations tenants cannot be evicted for any reason, if they pay rent promptly and are in the generally accepted term "well-behaved."

Misunderstanding regarding the regulations has arisen because of the slight change in the regulations respecting shared accommodation. Mr. Primrose explained. Formerly a tenant could not be asked to vacate shared accommodation during the winter months, but now under Board Order No. 640 tenants of shared accommodation can be asked to vacate by the landlord giving six months' notice on a form provided by the Board. This notice may require the tenant to vacate at any time during the year.

Shared accommodation is accommodation where rooms are a part of the residence of the landlord or the landlord's agent, and where the main entrance and a kitchen, bathroom or a similar type of facility is shared by the landlord. This is the only type of housing accommodation where tenants may be asked to vacate at any time, Mr. Primrose pointed out.

A SOURCE OF GOOD CHEAP SEED

(By H. G. L. Strange)

Thousands of farmers this last spring sent samples of their seed wheat which they sowed in 1946, and which therefore represents their crops now being harvested, to be tested for true-to-variety by the "Crop Testing Plan." In almost every district there will be found one or more farmers whose samples were found on test to be equal in true-to-variety to Certified sometimes to Registered seed. These farmers will soon be notified of the classification of their crops. Those thereof, who have doubts about the true-to-variety of their present crops, or who may wish to change over to an entirely new variety, and who need therefore to purchase a large quantity of true-to-variety seed for this next year, might well enquire if some farmer in their neighborhood has "Crop Testing Plan" "A" stocks. If so they could certainly purchase a quantity of such good seed at a small premium over the elevator price.

In addition to purchasing a quantity of such "Crop Testing Plan" "A" seed, farmers would be wise to sow also five to ten acres of clean summerfallow to Registered and Certified seed sown in the fall. This would be a fine money-making investment, for it would provide a good deal of excellent seed at low cost for the following year.

Boy (true child of the motor era): "Well, I oughta be—I'm a later model."

Travel Will Be Fun Again via Canadian Pacific

Remember how pleasant it used to be to travel on Canadian Pacific ships! Remember the cuisine, the courteous service, the fun of shipboard life . . . and the ships themselves!

Just now there's a big job to do repairing the wear and tear of wartime years—replacing lost ships . . . but when it's done, travel will be fun again—the Canadian Pacific way! Soon a new, two ocean fleet will plow the sea routes of the world . . . and once again it will be possible to go from Shanghai to Southampton—Canadian Pacific all the way!

Economical Housewives

There was a day when the housewives bought the far away "bargain" in the belief that it was good business to save a few pennies. But experience taught them a few things. Today's housewives do not buy blindly. They examine the article first and when satisfied with the product they pay a fair price at home. It is economical to make your purchases in

DIDSBURY

The thing that really makes men equal is that we all can change.

WOMEN OF YELLOWKNIFE

(By Edna Jaques)
Women of Yellowknife have a little private transportation problem on their hands that hasn't been solved yet.

You see, there is no bus or street car service there, no way of getting their groceries home but by Shanke's mare and a stout shopping bag, that gets mighty heavy by the time they've plodded that long, long mile between the waterfront (where all the stores are) to their homes on the new townsite.

Unless you've struck a gold mine lately you're not likely to have a car of your own. Like every place else they're scarce as hen's teeth and cost like nobody's on account of the long freight haul.

Transportation is the biggest problem of this thriving new settlement. A thousand miles from the nearest city, icebound eight months of the year, the cost of freighting runs from $80 to $8000 a ton, depending on whether your grub comes in by water in the summer or by plane. In winter, huge caterpillar tractors haul in sleigh-loads of supplies (ten sleighs to a cat).

Housewives watch like hawks for these "cat trains" to come in over the ice of the Great Slave Lake and whip around to the stores to buy supplies before the meagre stores are exhausted. If you are a good sprinter you're lucky. If you're a poor runner, it's just too bad.

Plane express is 35¢ a pound so the cost is prohibitive except for the strict necessities such as medical supplies, diamond drills, repairs for the mines, etc. During the summer months huge barges — pushed by paddle steamers — plod down the Athabasca and across Slave Lake bringing in supplies for the rest of the year. . . frozen meat canned and powdered milk . . . flour jams . . . syrup and sugar . . . everything from shoes for the kids to the great sheep lined coats and parkas for men, women and children.

Any way you put it housewives of Yellowknife have a man-sized job on their hands. We might say they accept these hardships with a cheerful grin and seem very happy in their new homes built on the world's newest gold mine.

Housewives of the more settled parts of Canada have an easier lot. Sure — they know what shortages are and fuss a bit about them, but not many tables in this country have felt the lack of the real necessities. We've been the luckiest people in the world.

Now — the latest shortage coming up is paper bags and wrapping paper. Canadian housewives are being asked to "go easy" on paper bags, to carry your groceries home in your own shopping bags to save wrapping paper, for "sure as you're born" that shortage will hit you before long. The best thing to do — starting right where you are — is to use those clean little paper bags so they can be used to carry lunches and all the thousand and one uses a clean paper bag can be put to, you'll be glad of them later on.

The reason for the shortage — well, multi-walled bags are used for packaging food for both home and overseas. The cement industry alone uses thousands of them, and although production of these very necessary bags is four times that of pre-war days, still there isn't enough.

It will be necessary for the WPTB to divert Kraft paper, the basic commodity common to both wrapping paper, shopping bags and brown envelopes. It is estimated that this 10% cut will save nearly three thousand tons of paper, for the more necessary uses such as food shipments and building supplies.

The doughty housewives of Yellowknife would laugh if you called this a hardship.

SHARP REDUCTION IN HOGS ON FARMS

According to an official report on the numbers of swine on farms in Canada on June 1, 1946, the reduction in hog numbers, which has been continuing since the high point in December, 1943, is again in evidence. The number of hogs on farms totalling 5,377,000 as compared with 6,025,600 on June 1, 1945. While there were small increases in Prince Edward Island, Quebec, and Ontario, the other provinces showed declines. The reductions in New Brunswick and in British Columbia were not great, but in Saskatchewan there was only 75.2 per cent and in Alberta only 75.1 per cent of the numbers that were on the farms in 1945. Nova Scotia had 82.2 per cent and Manitoba 82.5 per cent of the 1945 totals. The net reduction for Canada was 10.8 per cent.

The number of sows expected to farrow has, however, declined very little, having dropped from 512,500 in 1945 to 507,900 in 1946. These figures, says the report, are a strong indication that the downward trend in hog production is beginning to level off. In all the Eastern Provinces, there is a decided increase in the number of sows expected to farrow, from 4.3 per cent in Prince Edward Island to as high as 26.7 per cent in Nova Scotia. A significant increase of 7.4 per cent occurred in Ontario, with 214,700 sows expected to farrow as compared with 199,900 on June 1, 1945. The Western Provinces all showed declines but the reductions are all much less than in 1945.

CANADA CROP ESTIMATE

The wheat crop for all Canada in 1946 is placed at 440,567,000 bushels in the first estimate of grain production issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics. This estimate exceeds average yield of 17 bushels per acre running 1 bushel higher than the long-time average.

Production this year will be the highest since the record crop of 1942, when 556,684,000 bushels of wheat were threshed in Canada. The current crop is being harvested from an estimated 25,900,000 seeded acres, the highest wheat acreage since 1940 and about 2.5 million acres larger than the acreage seeded to wheat in 1945.

The estimated output of wheat in the prairie provinces is placed at 420 million bushels as compared with 282 million bushels in 1945. The anticipated average yield of wheat in the prairie provinces this year is 16.7 bushels per seeded acre, with Manitoba averaging 21.9, Saskatchewan 14.6 and Alberta 18.9 bushels per acre.

Ontario, which contains the only substantial wheat acreage in Canada outside of the prairie provinces, produced a wheat crop of 16,934,000 bushels this year. All but 882,000 bushels of this total was fall wheat.

WATER REQUIREMENTS OF A COW

It is estimated that the average cow needs from 10 to 15 gallons of water per day. High producing cattle, such as those producing, say, 10 gallons of milk per day, may consume up to 30 gallons of water per day. Where dry feed, such as hay or chaff and concentrates, is being fed, the cows would take 10 to 15 gallons of water as such. However, where the cows are on pasture and quantities of up to 150 pounds are known to be eaten, water would be taken in smaller amounts. One hundred and thirty pounds of pasture would probably contain about nine or ten gallons of water. If silage were fed, 50 pounds of that material would probably contain about 3½ gallons of water.

APPLE TREE SHELTER

Apple trees do not thrive best on any particular exposure. Most fruit districts, however, suffer from the effects of violent wind at harvest time; therefore, a slope provides some protection, particularly against wintry winds.

The Minister of Finance announces A NEW BOND ISSUE FOR PEACETIME SAVINGS

Canadians are thrifty people. Their record in war financing will stand for many years to come.

Through six years, millions saved and invested in Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates in a way no one thought possible. Many thousands learned the convenience of regular, systematic saving, whether in small monthly amounts or by larger cash investment. As a result they have accumulated substantial personal reserves with all that means in increased future security and satisfaction.

Because suggestions and requests have come to me from all parts of the country that facilities for this kind of saving be continued in peacetime, the Canada Savings Bond has been created.

The issue of War Savings Certificates and Stamps to the general public will be discontinued on September 30th, and final instalments on the last Victory Bond issue will have been completed in the near future. Canada Savings Bonds, therefore, will provide an opportune means for citizens to carry on their regular savings habits without interruption.

The general public should note that this time there will be fewer salesmen than in the case of Victory Bonds. Although the new Canada Savings Bonds will be sold through banks, authorized investment dealers, stock brokers and trust or loan companies, these agencies will not be able to approach every individual Canadian. This means that for the most part it will be left to Canadians to assume the responsibility for their own purchases of Canada Savings Bonds. If they wish to grasp this opportunity, they should act for themselves without delay.

Canada Savings Bonds are designed to be the finest investment available to the public today. I recommend them to you as a safe, profitable and convenient investment for personal savings.

I now announce the terms of the new Canada Savings Bonds, which will be offered commencing October 15th.

M. A. Aulley
MINISTER OF FINANCE

NOTES FROM THE EAST

Note to ladies. The Lone Pine W. I. will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Floyd Ahlgren on the third Wednesday instead of the second Wednesday as usual. Everybody welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Nelson and family of Edmonton motored down to spend the week end with Mrs. Nelson's father, Hugh McLean.

Mrs. Fritz of East Didsbury, Mrs. Nelson says there is no place like a farm. Just try boarding a loaded street car with kiddies and parcels in a mad rush to reach another store, hoping you might secure a bar or a box of laundry soap.

Mrs. Ivan Clindinnin finished helping Mrs. Alf Thompson with the threshers on Thursday. She has now returned to cook for threshers at Mr. Thorpe's.

Mrs. Earl Wood has been a very welcome helper at the home of Messrs. Bruce and Harold Shells during threshing operations.

Mrs. Wall and daughter have been visiting at the home of her father, Mr. C.E. Neufeld, for the past few days.

It is rumored that mumps are going around in the district. Those who have never had or been a fat head, look out!

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

About 3,500 German prisoners are working on farms in Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta, slightly more than last year.

A London Daily Graphic columnist said that of the 6,000 Canadian servicemen left in Britain some will be there for five or more years.

Canadian fluid milk sales in 1943 reached an all-time high of over four billion pounds, and are expected to increase another 5 to 10 per cent.

The Government of South Africa have appointed a director of food supplies and distribution to organize a central ration scheme in urban areas.

The land doesn't seem to have lost its appeal for girls. In the first week of its new recruiting campaign the British Women's Land Army received over 1,400 inquiries.

During the first year of demobilization 3,150,000 demobilization outfits or 31,500,000 separate items of clothing were issued to men and women leaving the services.

Reconstruction Minister Howe told the commonsense "is true that the cost of operating aviation facilities in Canada are greatly in excess of the revenue derived therefrom."

It is preparing to compete with all comers for the British bacon market. The government has decided to tighten control of the hog industry, supplied by 250,000 farmers.

A new granary costing $1,500,000, the largest milling project of its kind in Scotland, is to be built in Berfrev, by a Clydebank company. It is intended mainly to handle grain from Canada.

A special laboratory is being erected at Saint Ste. Marie, Ont., where disease children will be developed to combat such forest insects as spruce budworm and hemlock looper.

Cheap Labor

Surplus Population of Italy Is Planning To Emigrate

ROME—Large numbers of Italy's surplus population of 15,000,000 are storming the consulates of the United States, South America and France, hoping to start new lives in more agreeable surroundings.

Their first choice is the United States; second, Argentina or Brazil; and third, France, Belgium or Switzerland. The U.S. quota allows for 5,800 immigrants a year, but there are already 300,000 applications on file with the Italian foreign office.

Of the 750,000 Italians who will emigrate during the next three years, however, only about 400,000 are expected to remain abroad permanently. The remainder—especially those who go to France and the Netherlands—probably will stay a few years and come back home.

Approximately 30,000 Italians are expected to emigrate to Brazil. No more than 25,000 will go to Argentina. A shortage of transport will limit all emigration to South America. Count Scervo-Suardo, general director of Italian affairs, doesn't believe that emigration is the answer to the current exasperated attitude among Italians.

The best solution for the over-population and unemployment problems in the immediate future," he said, "is the investment of United States capital in the Italian basic industries. This would be especially profitable in southern Italy where labor is cheap."

Scervo-Suardo reasons that it is better for one man to get a job in Italy than for five Italians to leave the country. Those who remain probably will support a family or four, he said, but those who emigrate often are not able to send money back to their families.

This problem is not specifically Italian," Scervo-Suardo said. "Because the other 45,000,000 Italians are not going to be born and die happily. And the manner in which the Paris peace conference solves this problem will determine to a large extent—the future peace of the world."

Scervo-Suardo said he believed that treatment of Italian immigrants in other countries would indicate "either good will, indifference or hatred toward the Italian people as a whole. Emigration, he said, "is a matter of mutual trust."

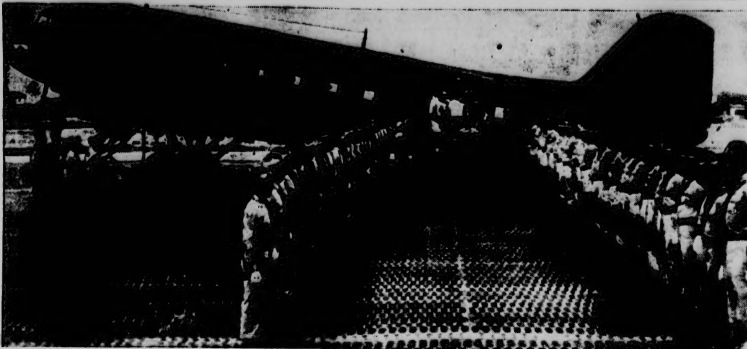

LATEST DEVELOPMENT

Sending color pictures thousands of miles by radio is the latest development of the wonder of radio waves. Two four-color pictures have already been transmitted from England to Australia. Soon, no doubt, color photographs of, say, a London procession will be appearing in Australia the following day.

The Schwesman Wachmann comet was photographed 25 years before it was discovered. The comet was discovered in 1927, but a photographic plate made in 1902 was found to show the comet.

Many English School Children Corresponding With French Children

A scheme to link English schools with schools in Belgium and to put individual children in the two countries in touch with one another is announced by Britain's Ministry of Education. Its purpose is to improve Anglo-Belgian relations by the exchange of correspondence and by pairing schools of similar interests and background with a view to the interchange of pupils and holiday visits. A similar scheme between France and Britain was started in November last and has created wide interest. Fifteen thousand children in English schools are now corresponding with a similar number of French children and 250 schools in Britain have been directly linked with schools in France.

Limpet Mine

Was Used To Sabotage A British Ship In Palestine Area

JEERUSALEM—The British army announced, after a two-day search of the Seta Yam area, that it had found a limpet mine such as was used to sabotage the refugee ship Empire Rival.

Specially trained dogs found the mine, similar to one attached to the hull of the Empire Rival, as she was about to pull out for Cyprus with a group of Jewish refugees.

Four thousand troops carried out an intense search of the coastal area around Seta Yam below Haifa. Their trained dogs found a mine without explosive, together with equipment like that worn by the "frogmen" who attached the mine to the ship.

Plan Is Started For Training Diplomats In England

A new system of training diplomats has been started at the government training centre at Cobham, Surrey. Under it, future ambassadors will be trained in a more practical manner than in the past. Candidates for key jobs in the foreign and domestic service must undergo the three-day test at Stoke D'Abernon Manor, which was used during the war by the army for similar purposes. Only a few are passed.

The candidates come as "guests," being greeted by a pleasant hostess who pins on each a number by which he is known during his stay. The staff live in the main house while the visitors are put up in comfortable army huts nearby.

Special observers are in each group, watching the candidates as they undergo tests, eat their meals or relax in a well-supplied bar. Quizzes are conducted, and all sorts of annoying, petty tasks—including the dismantling and reassembling of a water tank—are imposed.

Patience and tact are two prime factors sought. Of 700 foreign office candidates tested last summer, 15 were passed and 670 rejected. The other 15 were placed on the reserve and may still be called.

VALUABLE CARGO

The British South American Airways Corporation has found it necessary to install safes in its planes. In recent weeks diamonds, emeralds, money and even snakes have been transported along the air lines. So much valuable freight was being carried that specially-designed strong-boxes were made standard equipment on the London-South America run.

Changes Have Been Made In Britain To Help Many Who Were Married During War

The forthcoming changes in the British citizenship law announced by Mr. Chuter Ede, Home Secretary, on August 1st have special importance at the present time because of the large number of British women who married servicemen from other countries.

Under the existing law, a British woman who marries an alien loses her British citizenship if, by the law of her husband's country, she acquires his citizenship. This rule does not affect those British women who married American servicemen; they retain British citizenship since they did not become American citizens by marriage. But those who married servicemen of certain other countries acquired their husband's citizenship on marriage, and therefore automatically lost their British citizenship. The law will now be changed so that a British woman will never lose her citizenship by marriage.

Another aspect of the existing law is that a non-British woman who marries a British man automatically acquires British citizenship. This, too, will be changed under the new legislation. In future the alien wife of a Briton will have to apply for naturalization in order to become a British citizen herself.

These forthcoming changes have long been urged by women's organizations. The rule that a British woman loses citizenship by marriage to an alien dates from 1878, and until 1933 she lost her own citizenship whether or not she acquired her husband's. She might, therefore, become stateless, e.g. by marriage to an American. In 1933 the law was changed to eliminate this possibility; from then until the present time, a British woman would lose her citizenship only if she acquired her husband's citizenship. The 1933 Act was regarded by women's organizations as entirely inadequate. But the difficulty was that, by a long-standing convention, the law governing British citizenship can only be changed in agreement with the Dominions, and these nations could not agree to make a woman's citizenship entirely independent of that of her husband. Agreement on this principle was, however, reached in conferences of experts from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the United Kingdom during the last few months, and these nations could not agree to make a woman's citizenship entirely independent of that of her husband. Agreement on this principle was, however, reached in conferences of experts from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the United Kingdom during the last few months, and these nations could not agree to make a woman's citizenship entirely independent of that of her husband. Agreement on this principle was, however, reached in conferences of experts from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the United Kingdom during the last few months, and these nations could not agree to make a woman's citizenship entirely independent of that of her husband.

When passed the new citizenship Act will take its place in the long list of measures which have equalized the rights of British women with those of men.

THE EXPORT MARKET

A population in excess of 100 million people would be required to make full use of Canada's farm produce and timber resources that are now placed on the market each year. Actually Canada has only about 12 million inhabitants.

The above statement was made by "The Economic Annalist" issued by the federal department of agriculture, in an article dealing with Canada's national debt. This article pointed out that the Dominion's debt has now risen to $13.04 billion, equal to over $1,130 per capita. It maintained that in order to carry such a heavy debt, national income must be high. In order to maintain a high national income and provide employment, a large portion of the surplus goods produced must be marketed abroad. In Canada foreign trade accounts for about one-third of the national income.
